It is a Signal for Considerable Ceremony Carried on By Travelers.

LONDON, June 10.—(By Associated Press Correspondent recently in Rumania)—On the trains running north ward across North Russia, the crossing of the Arctic Circle is made the ion for a festival similar to that which tourists used to enjoy on shipsoard when crossing the equator. The train makes a stop of several hours in the midst of a snow-covered wasts on the shores of the White Sea. The passengers stretch their legs and take a constitutional out over the frozen surface of the White Sea while a picnic dinner is being prepared.

The exact spot where the railroad crosses the Circle is probably not determined with scientific accuracy, but the men who built the railroad apparently agreed on an approximate location, and this is marked with a suitable inscription. At this point also the railroad builders have left a slight gap, probably not more than a quarter of an inch, between the rails, so that, as passengers often notice. "when the train passes over the Circle, there is a distinct jolt and jar.'

The American Red Cross Mission to Rumania began to prepare for the festival of the Arctic Circle Crossing several days in advance. The event was celebrated with a dinner of Lapland turkey and wild cranberries, with an entree of roast reindeer. The turkeys were secured a few days previously by Colonel Henry W. Anderson, the commanding officer of the American Unit, who stopped the train for an afternoon in order to launch a game hunting expedition along the southern shores of the frozen White

The evening was marked by a particularly brilliest di play of the Aurora Borcalis c. Northern Lights. which most of the members of the party witnessed for the first time. The surors appeared at an a seed illumi nated the sky in fante loaks and circles across the v. northera horizon.

It was on this day also that a nouthward bound crain paned, braing among its passengers Major Warlwell of the American Red Cross Mission to Russia, who presented to the members of the Mission to Rumania a bandle of American newspapers only seven weeks old. The eagerness with tre ch these papers were passed from bear to head and read line by line. 6. on to the bituary columns and "cant sate," showed how alghly this gift was approdicted.

HEALTH HINTS

The weary business man or mother who moves away to the beach or to the country, whether for a short or long period, must bear in mind that in this changed environment there may be many things that are not for the betterment of health.

The mother should realize that impure milk or poliuted water often are the cause of illness and death among babies-and among adults, too.
